GENERAL PALMER CENSURED BY JURIST

Official Came Dangerously Near To Compounding Felony

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 8.—Attorney General Palmer's order limiting the government's evidence to be used in the soft coal conspiracy cases against 126 operators and miners in Indiana, Illinois, Ohio and Western Pennsylvania, were criticized by Federal Judge Anderson in the United States District Court here today as being "strangely close to the compounding a felony," and also "dangerously near contempt of court."

Trial of the cases was scheduled to begin today but government counsel said it was not ready to proceed. Before granting the continuance asked by the government counsel, Judge Anderson undertook an investigation of the attorney general's orders regarding the cases, ending with his criticism of Mr. Palmer's conduct.

The court set next January 10 as the date for calling the trials again, announcing that the meantime "will give us time to get our bearings and at least find out whether we are to govern by law or by person." Once before the judge had declared that Mr. Palmer's attitude in the cases was that of personal government, not government by law.

The attorney general was not present at the investigation, but C. D. Ames, former chief assistant to Mr. Palmer, explained that Mr. Palmer's orders had been misunderstood by government counsel, who, testifying at the investigation, said the orders possibly nullified the prosecution.

Nearly In Contempt.

Judge Anderson's statement regarding Mr. Palmer's conduct came, after hearing most of the testimony, the court leading up to his assertion with a series of questions whether the attorney general had authority to agree not to use certain evidence.

"It is strangely near to the compounding of a felony," said Judge Anderson in this connection. "I am not saying it is, I am saying it is strange near it."

Similarly the judge discussed the elements constituting contempt of court, his purpose being, he said, to "see how dangerously near this gentleman has got himself to a contempt of this court."

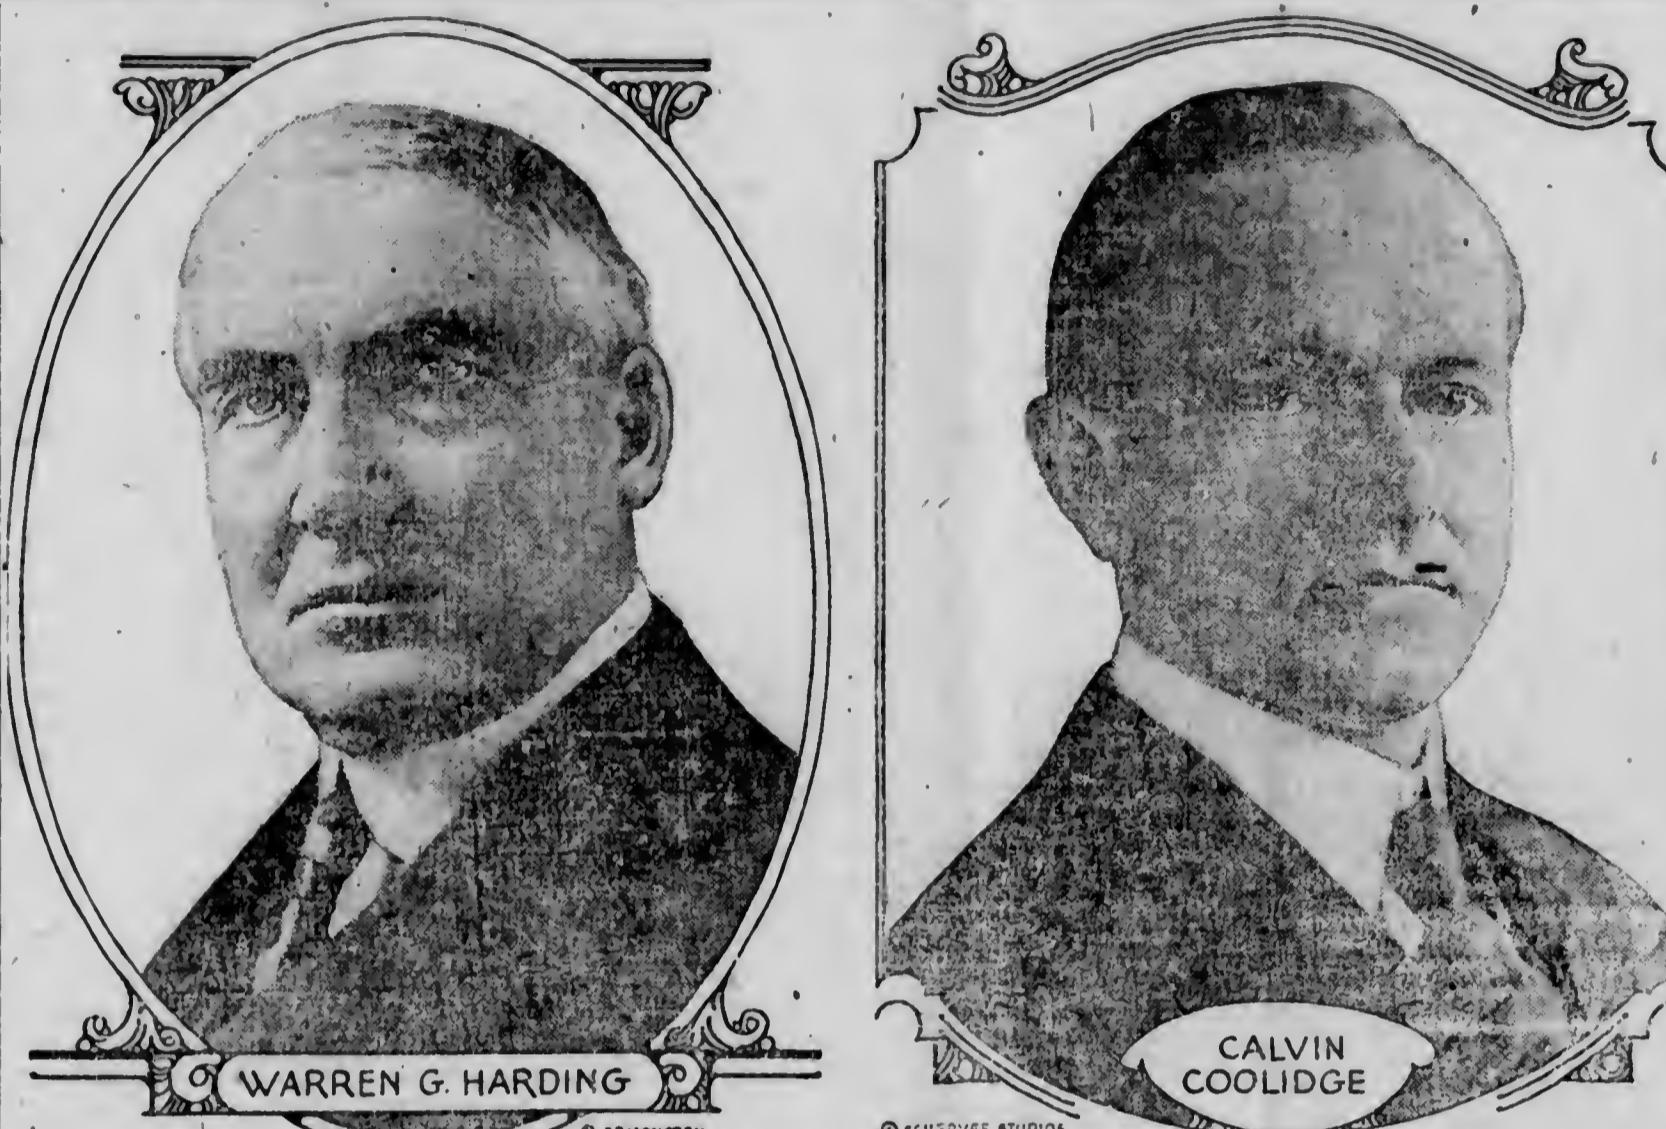

"The arm of this court is long," continued Judge Anderson in this connection, "and has been known to reach farther than Washington. I am not suggesting what may or may not be done. Mr. Palmer is the attorney general, and there is a certain amount of consideration that I am bound to pay to his official position if I do not pay it to him, himself."

After making these remarks Judge Anderson called on District Attorney Van Nys to produce messages exchanged with the Department of Justice about reopening the conspiracy cases, with the view of reporting further grand jury indictments, increasing the list of defendants. One message bearing the name of Assistant Attorney General Mitchell said the "attorney general has instructed me to request that before seeking indictments you should consult with and lay the facts before this department." Interpreting this message, Judge Anderson said its effect was "that this court can not proceed unless the attorney general sees fit to advise."

"I am going to have it done," the judge added, his remark apparently meaning that the grand jury soon to convene will reopen investigation of the conspiracy cases.

In opening the investigation, Dan W. Simms of Lafayette, Ind., said he resigned as special prosecutor in the cases because he said the attorney general's order would prevent use of evidence that was the basis of the government's injunction case last year against the coal strike, and the later contempt proceedings for alleged violation of the court's order directing cancellation of the strike order. Similar testimony was given by L. Ert Slack, another special prosecutor, and by District Attorney Van Nys.

Mr. Ames said, however, and Mr. Palmer interpreted his orders to mean only the elimination of evidence that was the basis of the contempt proceedings and pointed out that these proceedings were begun at a date later than that covered by the alleged conspiracy. Mr. Ames also said that the attorney general has the right to elect whether the government would prosecute its cases as civil or criminal matters, and that having chosen a civil proceeding in the strike Mr. Palmer did not believe it fair to proceed criminally after having obtained the miners' compliance with the court order. Mr. Ames also said the department had co-operated wholeheartedly in the prosecution and had not interfered in any way with the action of the government's special council in the present conspiracy cases.

Testimony also was given during the hearing that no agreement to limit the government's evidence had been made in Judge Anderson's presence. In this connection the judge presented statements attributed to Mr. Palmer saying such undertaking had been made last December.

Palmer Declines Statement.

Washington, Nov. 8.—Attorney General Palmer declined tonight to comment on a statement of Federal Judge Anderson at Indianapolis today with respect to the court's injury in to the attorney general's connection with the soft coal conspiracy cases. Department of Justice officials said it had been expected that C. D. Ames, who went to Indianapolis as the department's representative, "would read into the court record all of the instructions in question." Whether the court had been advised of this plan was unknown at the department, but pending developments in the controversy officials were silent.

The statement was reiterated at the attorney general's office that the only instructions sent by Mr. Palmer were those contained in a letter to Dan W. Simms and which resulted in his resignation. This letter has since been made public.

FISCAL COURT IN 3 DAYS SESSION

The Ohio County Fiscal Court convened here Monday, adjourning Wednesday, with the entire membership, composed of County Judge Mack Cook, Justices O. E. Scott, Q. B. Brown, G. W. Rowe, W. C. Daugherty, W. S. Dean, B. C. Rhoads, H. F. Rice and Ed Shown. County Attorney A. D. Kirk was also with the Court, with Clerk W. C. Blenkenship doing the clerical work.

The Court went thru one of the busiest sessions had in a long time, as the majority of the claims of the year were up for action at this term. Aside from plans for special road repair work no business other than of a routine nature was transacted.

JNO. GILLIAM WILL CONTEST ELECTION

Questions Validity Of R. Y. Thomas' Majority In Third.

The congressional election in the Third Kentucky District will be contested by John H. Gilliam, of Scottsville, Republican candidate, who on the face of the available returns, was defeated by R. Y. Thomas, Democratic candidate for re-election, by 531 votes. This decision was reached in a conference of Republican leaders in Louisville, last night.

Mr. Gilliam was in Louisville yesterday, but during his visit to Republican state headquarters did not discuss the political situation insofar as it concerned his race.

There have been persistent rumors coming out of the Third District for some days to the effect that Gilliam's friends had evidence upon which to base a contest and that it was their intention to bring about such a move if it was possible.

One of the claims made is that in one Republican precinct in Todd County 117 ballots, which had been stamped under the Log Cabin by淳民 voters, later had been thrown out as "mutilated." These ballots, it is alleged, not only bore the stamp under the Cabin as when they were deposited in the ballot box, but also bore marks in various colored inks under other party emblems.

It is further charged by Gilliam's friends that in one precinct in Logan County the Democratic majority on the face of the returns is greater than the total vote of both sexes in that precinct.

RENFROW—NEWCOMB.

Mr. Aubrey Newcomb, age 22 and Miss Helva Renfrow, age 14, were united in marriage Saturday afternoon, at the Methodist parsonage at Nocreek, the Rev. Landreth performing the ceremony. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Robert Renfrow, of this place, and was one of our high school students. The groom is a promising young farmer, of the Washington Country, where they will make their future home.

ENORMOUS WASTE OF FUNDS CHARGED

Evidence Of Graft Found In Purchases By Ship- ping Board.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Charges that the activities of the Shipping Board have resulted in an enormous waste of Government funds are contained in a report submitted to the House Committee on Shipping Board by two former employees of the board, A. M. Fisher and J. F. Richardson, who for more than a year have conducted an investigation for the committee.

The report, released for publication today by the committee, of which Representative Walsh, Republican, Massachusetts, is chairman, states that the investigators found evidence of graft in the purchase of supplies for repairing Government-owned ships, of corruption on the part of officials and employees of the Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation, and of the use of political and other influence in the negotiating of contracts for construction and allocation of vessels.

The investigators grouped their observations under seven general heads, representing various phases of the Shipping Board's activities. They declared that improperly drawn contracts had cost the Government a large sum; that some divisions of the board had failed to co-operate efficiently and that others had failed completely to function properly.

The report charged that payrolls had been padded by some of the firms which repaired Government-owned vessels, and that there had been a heavy loss to the Government as a result of wholesale theft of supplies and equipment from ships. The investigators also reported to the committee that companies operating Government vessels had in some instances owned stock in companies which furnished supplies to the ships at prices ranging as high as 50 per cent above wholesale costs.

Discussing the allocation of ships the report states that investigation of companies or applicants for assignment or allocation tonnage seems to be more or less haphazard with the United States Shipping Board. The investigators say that the division of assignment and allocation attempted to co-operate with the Department of Investigation, but that just about the time proper co-operation between these two departments had been established the Department of Investigation was so disturbed by a change in its directing heads and its personnel as to render its offices useless for the purpose of the division of assignment and allocation.

Mr. Richardson, one of the investigators, was formerly connected with the Department of Investigation. Mr. Fisher was at one time connected with the Federal Trade Commission. He states, in presenting the report that it was "designed to be constructive and helpful to the Shipping Board rather than destructively critical."

$4,000 VERDICT IN AUTO CRASH AFFIRMED

A verdict of $4,000 against E. P. Barnes and Bro., Beaver Dam, for the death of Miss May Eastin, who was killed in an automobile collision in August, 1918, was affirmed by the Court of Appeals Tuesday in an opinion by Judge Simpson.

Miss Eastin, the 15-year old daughter of R. B. Eastin, of Letcher County, in company with Mr. and Mrs. Doris Martin, were passing the Berry Farm on the Hartford and Beaver Dam pike, when their machine and a truck belonging to E. P. Barnes & Bro., collided.

HAS BIRTHDAY DINNER

Little Miss Lois Jane Riley was hostess at a gay party, given in honor of her 6th birthday on Wednesday afternoon, November 3rd. The little folks gathered at the Riley home at about 3:30, where an hour was spent in playing games, after which they were taken to the dining room where the great birthday cake with its six little candles, and huge plates of jello with cherries and whipped cream delightfully ended the afternoon for them all.

STEWART—LEACH.

Mr. Jobe N. Leach, of Terre Haute Indiana and Miss Ruth Stewart, of Beaver Dam, were married, in this city Saturday afternoon. The couple remained in their car while the ceremony was performed by Rev. Russell Walker, at the Baptist parsonage.

LARGE CROWD ATTENDS FIRST LYCEUM NUMBER

The first of the Lyceum Numbers for the present year was given at the High School Auditorium Tuesday night. A fair-sized audience enjoyed the wit, humor, and talent of the noted cartoonist, lecturer and musician, Mr. Packard, who was sent by the Redpath Lyceum Bureau. Such talent and skill are always a treat to a cultured audience and if you want to see and hear something worth while and spend an enjoyable evening do not fail to see all four numbers of this year's course.

R. R. REGULATION URGED BY BOARD

Utility Commissioners Con- demn Public Ownership At Convention.

Washington, Nov. 9.—Public ownership and operation of railroads has failed wherever it has been properly tested, declared a committee report made today to the thirty-second annual convention of the National Association of Railway and Utilities Commissioners in session here. The question of private ownership with regulation should no longer be considered by intelligent investigators as an open question, the report asserted. It added that private ownership and operation with public regulation was the "only just and honest manner of conducting the public utility business of this country."

P. J. Lucey, of Illinois, presented the report as chairman of the committee. Dealing with cost of railway operation now and before the war, it said:

"It seems remarkable that any sane man with a knowledge of the increase in all costs of living should think or expect that utility corporations might be an exception to the general rule. The operation of these general laws has again produced the political agitator who has sought and is seeking to make political capital out of present necessities."

Field Opposes Report.

The convention ordered the report printed without other action upon it after Commissioner Edward Field, of Missouri, had opposed its adoption, saying he believed in public ownership.

Mr. Lucey told the convention that the situation in Illinois regarding the public utility commission would "bear watching to see what comes out of it." The governor-elect, he said, had won on a platform of municipal ownership and home rule but had run 400,000 votes behind Senator Harding because "there are enough honest Republicans in Illinois, who didn't believe in the program of confiscation of private property."

Utilization of state regulatory commissions as regional federal commissions was proposed by Federal Judge George W. Anderson, of Boston. "I see no solution until our railroads are both unified and federalized," he told the convention, adding that the transportation act went farther toward federalization than had been generally recognized.

Railroads, Judge Anderson asserted "should be administered as a co-ordinated, national unit." The transportation act, he added, provided for a limited number of systems, "thus bowing to the old fetish of competition in service—a worship that will be found as empty and profitless in the future as it has been wasteful and confusing in the past."

Results Are Appalling.

"The results since March 1, 1920," he said, "are hardly less than appalling. I find no sign of economy, hardly a sign of efficiency, but the experiment should be tried fairly and with entire good faith. The optimists are entitled to their day. Congress has so determined."

"The day of any considerable control over rates by the states is nearly if not quite passed. What is needed, now that the railroads are recognized as being essentially national in nature and function, is that there shall be delegation by the nation to the state officials of national power together with a guarded but adequate right of review by the central national tribunal."

Protection of the constitutional rights of state commissions was urged by President Walter A. Shaw in his annual report. The greatest enemies of regulation, he said, are politicians, the group which believes public ownership of all utilities, and "the improper attitude of many utilities toward the public."

BUSINESS CHANGE.

Mr. Arthur Leach, formerly with the Ohio County Drug Company, has purchased the building on Main Street, in which Mr. Loney Minton conducted a grocery and restaurant. Mr. Leach also purchased the business and will continue the grocery and restaurant there.

HARDING WORKS FOR UNION OF NATIONS

"Best Minds" Have Been Summoned For Consultation.

Marion, Ohio, Nov. 5.—Senator Harding already has begun fulfillment of his campaign promise to consult the nation's leading minds with regard to a new association of nations and he hopes that by the time of his inauguration next March he will have laid the groundwork of a plan behind which the sentiment of the country can unite.

A list of those to be consulted first has been drawn up and invitations are going forward to several to come to Marion at the conclusion of the month's vacation trip, which is to be started by the president-elect tomorrow morning.

Both Republicans and Democrats are to present their views in individual and personal talks with Mr. Harding during the winter months, but he does not contemplate, for the present at least, any general assemblage of his advisers for round table discussion.

Names Not Published.

The names of those already invited have not been made public, but it was said in an announcement from the president-elect's office tonight that "men and women who have been eminent in the discussion of our foreign relations" made up the list. Additions will be made during Mr. Harding's vacation trip, it was added, although no consideration will be given by him during that period to the choice of a cabinet.

The announcement followed a long conference between Senator Harding and Will H. Hays, who as Republican national chairman led the campaign for Harding and Coolidge. Neither revealed what subjects they had discussed, but it was understood that the chairman's visit here was made at Mr. Harding's request, and had to do both with the campaign just closed and with the policies to be shaped for the coming administration.

The objective of the senator's trip is Point Isabel, Texas, and although he plans to occupy most of his time there hunting and fishing, another of his close campaign advisers, Harry M. Daugherty, will accompany him. It is taken for granted there will be some discussion of policies and administrative programmes between them.

Official Announcement

That the plan for conferences on an association of nations was already taking form was revealed in this announcement from Mr. Harding's office:

"Senator Harding let it be known today that he is sending out a number of requests for personal and very informal conferences with men and women who have been eminent in the discussion of our foreign relations. These conferences will take place upon his return to Marion in December and will be individual and personal, with the main purpose of learning what policy may enlist general support."

"Senator Harding means to avoid any unseemly anticipation, but he feels it wholly becoming to get an expression entirely free from campaign bias and to get it at the earliest possible date. It is the first step toward the meeting of minds, which Senator Harding so frequently spoke of during the campaign. He did not make public any list, because it will not be complete before his vacation ends."

"Senator Harding further announced that no consideration would be given to a cabinet during his recreation period."

Officials close to the president-elect called attention that in his campaign speeches he promised repeatedly that the "meeting of minds" would begin as soon as possible after his election, and that he also frequently declared that the purpose of his consultations would be not to suggest any plan of his own, but to ascertain how divergent views might be so brought into harmony as to put a united nation behind him in his negotiations with other powers.

He also has indicated in campaign speeches that irreconcilable opponents of the League of Nations, as well as its ardent supporters, would be numbered among those to whose advice he would listen. To the Senate he promised to give a share of attention proportionate to its powers in perfecting treaties.

Although the president-elect has never named publicly any of those he will include in his consultations, speculation of a wholly unauthoritative character has revolved persistently about a number of conspicuous figures who might answer the description Mr. Harding has laid down.

Senators To Be Heard

So far as the Senate itself is concerned, this underground of gossip has carried frequently the names of such republican senators as Lodge of Massachusetts, chairman of the foreign relations committee; Knox of Pennsylvania, a former secretary of state; and Senator Johnson of California, both irreconcilables, and Lenroot of Wisconsin, a leader of the reservationists. On the Democratic side there has been mention, among others, of Senators Underwood of Alabama, the party leader, Hatchcock, of Nebraska, who led the fight for unreserved ratification; Simmons of North Carolina and Robinson, of Arkansas.

Among those outside frequent speculative mention has been made of former President Taft, a leader for international peace and a supporter of the Versailles league; Herbert Hoover, another league advocate; Elihu Root, former secretary of state and a participant in the recent International court negotiations; Charles Evans Hughes, Republican presidential nominee four years ago; Henry White, a Republican member of President Wilson's peace commission; Myron T. Herrick, former ambassador to France; Henry P. Davison, head of the American Red Cross; former Senator George Sutherland of Utah and many other Republicans.

A shorter list of Democrats outside the Senate were also mentioned. Among them is Robert Lansing, former secretary of state and a member of the peace commission, often quoted in Mr. Harding's campaign as disagreeing with Mr. Wilson on some features of the Versailles covenant.

Others are Frank L. Polk, the State Department's former under-secretary; Chief Justice White and George Harvey, the New York editor.

There has been even less of speculation with regard to what women would be asked for advice in the making of the new plan for an international association. It is expected, however, that the senator will choose those who have been closely associated with public activities throughout the treaty fight so as to be familiar with the sentiments of their sisters regarding membership in the League or any substitute for it.

Whether the tentative list of names was one of the subjects reviewed in the talk between Mr. Harding and Mr. Hays was not revealed. It was understood that many topics came up for discussion, however, in the first meeting of the successful candidate and his manager since the election. They greeted each other warmly when Mr. Hays arrived and as soon as there had been an exchange of congratulations the president-elect put his arm around the shoulders of the chairman and, deeply engrossed in conversation, they walked slowly over to Mr. Harding's office.

It was Mr. Hays forty-first birthday, and in explanation of the visit the president-elect said tonight he felt indebted to the chairman for a birthday party and so had asked him to be a guest throughout the day.

FLOUR PRICES FALL TO JANUARY, 1918, LEVEL

Minneapolis, Nov. 6.—Flour prices for family patents today dropped to a level not in effect since January 1918.

The reduction at one mill was 75 cents, which made its price $10.75 a barrel, while another flouring concern's quotation fell 20 cents to a new low price of $10.40.

The slump is attributed by millers to the weak wheat market.

A Digger Indian, Phillip Left Hand, has just joined the proverbial "good Indians" at the age of 138 years. It is claimed he was born in 1782—just a handful of years after the Revolution. While smoking, sparks from his pipe ignited his clothing and caused burns which resulted in his death at his tribal home in the Sierra Nevada mountains, in California.

Fordson

TRADE MARK

Farm Tractor

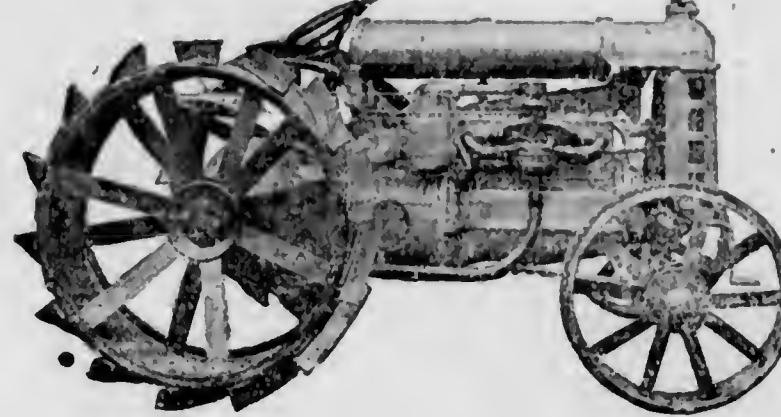

There is every reason in the world why every farmer should buy a Fordson Tractor, while there is not a single reason in the world why a farmer should not buy a Fordson Tractor.

In the claims we make for the Fordson Tractor as being the superior farm Tractor there is nothing of boasting. Our claims are based upon demonstrated facts. In every sensible test that has been made (and we don't believe in any jockeying or technical tests) but in the real common-sense work on the farm—the work the Tractor was intended to accomplish—we say, in all such tests the Fordson has stood head and shoulders above all competing Tractors. And this is best proven in the fact that while there are about three hundred thousand farm Tractors in use in the United States today, and while Tractors have been sold to farmers for twenty years, and while the Fordson Tractor has only been on the market two years, more than one-third of all the Tractors in use in the United States are Fordson Tractors.

Now you can't upset a fact. You can't back away from an established truth, and there it is—out of three hundred thousand Tractors, one hundred thousand are Fordsons, and there are probably some fifty different makes of Tractors on the market. Just let your common sense consider these facts. "Figs are not plucked from thistle bushes, nor plums from thorn trees."

The Fordson Tractor has the necessary power. It is economical in operation. It is flexible in control and operation. It is simple in design, and it is sturdily built of the best iron and steel. It is the product of the genius of Henry Ford, and it wasn't placed on the market until Henry Ford had tested it, and tested it, and tested it, before he asked the farmers to buy it. It is no idle faith that in the Fordson Tractor Henry Ford has given to mankind one of the greatest benefits which has ever come to civilized man.

Now we solicit every farmer to buy one or more Fordsons. Come in and see them. Come in and let us tell you more than we can in an advertisement. Let us demonstrate to you. Let us put it to every test that you ask. The Tractor is just as necessary for the farmer as water is in the house. Come in! Look the Fordson over, test it. Don't take any chances—don't experiment. Supply your farm with the Tractor of established value.

"Politically, we must not expect much" he declared. "The Monroe Doctrine is the one and only constant American foreign policy. TRIPARTITE PACT SIGNED IN AUGUST

Great Britain, France And Italy Publish Their Agreement

Paris, Nov. 5.—France, Great Britain and Italy have signed a tripartite agreement in which they undertake to support each other in maintaining their "spheres of influence" in Turkey. The limits of the areas in which the respective special interests of France and Italy are recognized are defined by the same document.

This agreement, it developed today, was signed at Sevres August 10, the day the public ceremonial of the signing of the peace treaty with Turkey took place. Although the agreement, it is explained, is not considered secret, it nevertheless has never been made public until now after a lapse of nearly three months since the signing. Under its own terms the document was to come into force and be published at the time the Turkish peace treaty should go into effect. This date is still an uncertainty.

Text of Agreement.

In connection with examination of the text of the agreement, now available, attention is being called here to the fact that while the treaty defines the spheres of influence of France and Italy—recognizing the special interests of France in Cilicia and the western part of Kurdistan bordering on Syria and of Italy in Southern Anatolia—the British spheres of influence are not only undefined, but are not mentioned.

This has raised the question if the agreement is susceptible of the interpretation that the British interests may be held to extend to any or all the remaining parts of the Turkish empire.

It is noted also that while the agreement does not take the form of an alliance, it pledges the contracting powers to "render diplomatic support to each other in maintaining their respective positions in the areas in which their special interests are recognized."

One section of the document provides for the exploitation of the Bagdad railway by a company in which British, French and Italian capital is equally interested. It gives the exploitation of the Heracolion coal mines, between Konich and Adana, to Italy.

Another Article X.

Article X of the agreement provides that nothing contained in it shall reduce the rights of nationals of non-signatory states to free access to the various areas for commercial and economic purposes.

The preamble of the document reads:

"Being anxious to help Turkey develop her resources, and to avoid the international rivalries which have obstructed these objects in the past, and being desirous to meet the request of the Turkish government that it receive necessary assistance in the recognition of justice, the finances, the gendarmerie and of the police, in the protection of religious, racial and linguistic minorities, and the economic development of the country; considering that autonomy or eventual independence of Kurdistan has been recognized by them, and that it is desirable with a view to facilitating the development of that country and make provision for any assistance it may require in its administration and to avoid international rivalries in such matters; recognizing the respective special interests of Italy and southern Anatolia and of France in Cilicia and the western part of Kurdistan bordering on Syria up to Jezireh-Ibn-Omar as these areas are hereafter defined, and the British, Italian and French governments have agreed upon the following:

Will Protect Religion.

"Article I—There shall be equality in Turkey between the contracting powers in the composition of all international commissions, whether existing or to be established, charged with the organization and supervision of the different public services and for insuring the protection of racial, religious and linguistic minorities. However, in the event the Turkish government of Kurdistan is desirous of obtaining external assistance in the local administration or policing of areas in which the special interests of France and Italy are respectively recognized the contracting powers undertake not to dispute the preferred claim of the power whose special interests in such areas are recognized to supply such assistance. This assistance shall be specially directed to enhancing the protection afforded to the racial and linguistic minorities of said areas."

Article II provides that the products and manufactured articles coming from or going to the territories, dominions, colonies or protectorates of the contracting powers shall enjoy in the areas defined perfect equality in all matters relating to commerce and navigation. The next article reads:

To Support Each Other.

"Article III—The contracting powers undertake to render diplomatic support to each other in maintaining their respective positions in the areas in which their special interests are recognized."

Article IV provides that the Anatolian railway, the Mersina-Tarsus-Adana railway and that part of the Bagdad railway lying in Turkish territory as defined by the treaty with Turkey, shall be worked by a company with its capital furnished equally by British, French and Italian financial groups. The French government, under this article, has the privilege of exchanging its interests in the Bagdad railway for the exclusive exploitation of the railroads within its area of special interest.

The signatories agree to support the unification in the near future of the entire railway system in the territory remaining Turkish by the establishment of a joint company to work those lines.

Equality of treatment regarding railway rates and facilities for passengers, whatever their nationality, destination or origin, is provided for.

Article V fixes the boundaries of the areas in which the special interests are recognized. The next article is as follows:

"Article VI—The mandatory powers for the territories detached from the former Turkish Empire will enjoy vis-a-vis with the contracting powers the same rights and privileges as the powers whose special interests are recognized in the area defined in Article V."

Article VII reserves to Italy the right of the exploitation of the Heraclion coal basin.

By Article VIII, the French and Italian governments agree to withdraw their troops from the respective areas, when the signatories are agreed in considering the treaty of peace with Turkey is being executed.

By Article IX, the signatories with special interests accept responsibility for supervising the execution of the terms of the treaty with Turkey for the protection of minorities within their respective areas.

The agreement is to be ratified, it is provided in Article XI, and be communicated to the Turkish government and to be published and come into force at the same time the Turkish peace treaty goes into effect.

WILSON NOT TO SET DEBS FREE

Washington, Nov. 6.—President Wilson is understood to have no intention of pardoning Eugene V. Debs, who is serving a ten-year sentence in the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta for violation of the espionage act.

The position taken by the President, according to those who profess to know his views, is that executive clemency in such a case would set a bad precedent and would encourage others to oppose the Government in the event of another war.

Debs was convicted at Cleveland September 12, 1918, on three counts, jury finding him guilty of attempting to incite insubordination and disloyalty in the military and naval forces, attempting to obstruct recruiting and provoke and encourage resistance to the United States and to promote the cause of the enemy.

A pardon for Debs and others convicted of violating the espionage act has been urged by a number of organizations, including the American Federation of Labor, which at its last annual convention at Montreal, Canada, authorized a committee to confer with Attorney General Mitchell Palmer on the matter.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA SNOW IN COLORADO

Depths up to five feet of snow are reported as covering western Colorado in one of the heaviest of early snow storms in years. Mountain roads are closed and many fruit trees have been broken under the heavy weight of snow, resulting in enormous losses in unpicked fruit. Temperature fell to 6 degrees above zero.

FRAUD CRY MADE TO APPEASE LOSERS

Many of the Faithful Took First Tips and Lost, Thus The Soothing "Stuff"

(Louisville Herald)

A story of the real reason underlying the Democratic cry of fraud in the Kentucky mountains was going the rounds in Louisville yesterday. According to this report, which came from well-informed centers, a large number of Kentucky Democrats, deluded by the erroneous figures given out by Democratic state headquarters on the Ernest Beckham race election night and Wednesday, were led to wager large sums of money on a Beckham victory.

Since it developed so clearly that the Democratic claims were wholly unfounded, many of those who put up big amounts on Beckham have not taken kindly to the "headquarters advice."

This situation, so the story goes, gave rise to the outcry of fraud as an alibi for the Democratic misinformation as to the actual figures on the Beckham race.

A Louisville Republican gave his version of the case yesterday. He said:

"Tuesday night Louisville adherents of Senator Beckham were sanguine. That was before the truth dawned upon them."

"After Tuesday night, they became sanguine. That was after the truth—the awful truth—had filtered thru the smoke screen of the 'fraud' cry and revealed as that cry's inspiration some very inexpert 'dope' that had been dished out to the faithful at Democratic headquarters."

"There are a lot of angry Democrats in Louisville. They are those Democrats who have the betting yen—the Democrats who backed some other fellow's judgment with their own money."

"It was never believed, after 10 o'clock, by the 'higher-ups' at Democratic headquarters that Beckham was elected. That the reverse was the fact became apparent to them early in the game. Unfortunately, however, the confidence of the leaders in J. C. W.'s re-election was so great before the polls closed that they 'touted' the friends who came to them for inside information to have no hesitancy in going forth upon the highways and the byways and gobbling up all the Ernst money gobble. And they did that very thing. From the hour the polls closed, Beckham money in Louisville was thicker than Democrats in Graves county. The faithful bet and bet and then bet again."

"Wednesday morning, the same faithful who had been victim-hunting the night before began to be assailed by disturbing headquarters with a demand to know just what was what."

"Then came the cry of 'fraud.' 'If Ernst wins,' said the higher-ups, 'it is stolen for him. Our figures last night were correct. They showed Ernst was beaten.'

"But it so chanced that their 'figures' were not correct. They were the barest sort of estimates, in which the Beckham vote in the western section of Kentucky was grossly overstated and the Ernst vote in the Republican sections of the mountains was understated."

"There is unrest at Democratic headquarters. The 'boys' are 'sore.' They were 'touted' wrong by men who, they are beginning to say aloud, inspired them to risk real money on the merest guesses. It is not to be expected that the 'boys' in the face of events since election night, are to be put off with any such thing as a tale of 'erroneous' figures. So 'fraud' is cited. For 'fraud,' as will be admitted, is a better alibi than misleading figures."

FARMERS LOSE ON CATTLE

A survey conducted during the last two winters in northern Illinois showed small actual profit in the production of beef for those years, according to the department of agriculture. The bulk of the cattle cost between $12 and $17 a hundred-weight to raise. Canning corn at its farm price, 40 per cent of the cattle showed a profit the first year and only five per cent the second. Considering what the stock raisers could have received from the sale of the corn with which they fed their stock, the average loss per head ranged from about

Illinois Central's 1920 Bill For

New Equipment Totals $27,109,768

The railroads of the United States have not been able to move promptly all the traffic offered, and business has suffered. This condition has been caused, very largely, by a lack of locomotives and cars. The railroads are not to blame. For decade preceding the war an anti-railroad spirit prevented the levying of rates which would guarantee an investment return sufficient to attract capital for financing the purchasing of adequate equipment; and during Federal control equipment purchased fell far short of the average of the preceding years.

Now that the railroads have been returned to the control of their owners and more adequate rates have been awarded, the purchase of equipment has increased greatly. The Illinois Central has placed orders to date for locomotives and cars which will cost $27,109,768. The purchases include:

150 Locomotives
2150 Coal Cars
1000 Refrigerator Cars
500 Stock Cars
300 Box Cars
200 Flat Cars

20 Suburban Coaches
12 Compartment Coaches
18 Baggage Cars
5 Dining Cars
50 Caboose Cars

A part of this equipment has been received. Further deliveries are under way, and will be kept up for a period of twelve months.

The 150 locomotives cost $11,809,675. One hundred are for freight service and are 40 per cent larger in tractive power than any now in general use on our lines. Twenty-five are for passenger service and twenty-five are for switch service. Their delivery will begin this month and will be completed early next year.

The 4,150 freight cars cost $13,473,600. We received 1,500 coal cars. The delivery of the remainder has begun and will extend over a period of twelve months.

The fifty-five cars for passenger train service cost $1,675,493. They will be delivered during the first three months of next year.

The fifty caboose cars cost $150,000. Nineteen have been delivered—the balance will be ready January 1st.

In addition to this amount expended for new equipment, the Illinois Central System has appropriated $8,000,000 since the return of its property for enlargement of roadway facilities. Much of this work is under way.

"While the growth of the Illinois Central System may not have kept pace with the growth of business in the territory served by it, that it has not stood still is evidenced by the fact that during the past ten years it has expended $169,279,178 for additions and betterments to its property.

Your attention is invited to these figures as testimony that our first consideration is a service to the public.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

C. H. MARKHAM,
President, Illinois Central Railroad Company.

LIMBURGER MUCH TO SMELLIFEROUS!

A stink was raised in a Kansas City court when Mrs. Erin Adams cited an assault upon her esthetic person with over-ripe limburger as strong evidence in her claim for $75,550 damages. It appeared that she purchased the cheese at a nearby grocery and upon opening the package found the cheese had lost its normalcy. It was "very objectionable and sensitive to the smell," she said, and when she sought to return it to the grocer he became enraged and threw the limburger at the plaintiff's head. It struck her with great force, filling her eyes and her hair, covering her clothes, neck and shoulders and "creating a great and sickening stench." She does not state just whether she believes limburger should contain more than one-half of one per cent amell and what amount would be considered intoxicating—Pathfinder.

FRIDAY..... NOVEMBER 12

We hereby nominate the Editor of the Louisville Times to be Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States in the Court of the King of Hedjaz.

Now, that the election is over the next big event to look forward to is the proposed battle for the World's heavy weight championship, July 4th, 1921, between Jack Dempsey and Gergas Carpenter.

Some four or five weeks ago President Wilson addressed Senator Harding as a mere private citizen, and the next time we hear of the President addressing Harding he is offered a Battle Ship upon which to make a voyage. Pretty rapid evolution, is it not?

Uncle Samuel Gompers is out in a statement which reads in part, as follows:

"The nonpartisan political policy of the Labor Federation is more completely justified than ever and the futility of separate party action more convincingly demonstrated."

In truth Mr. Gompers as a particular, did his best to throw Organized Labor to the Cox Ticket, but when the general result is surveyed it would appear that his effort was just about the most futile thing we know of. Evidently those within labor organizations voted according to the dictates of their own conscience, an act now commanded by the aged leader of the Federation, notwithstanding he so lately bent his efforts in the other direction.

In an editorial in the Louisville Times of the 5th Inst., on the League of Nations, we find the following sentences: "If America remains outside where can America look for help in case of foreign aggression; on the other hand, if America should invade Mexico, a member of the League, it would be incumbent on the League to defend Mexico's borders and BANDITS." The Times would not have made that admission before the election for any reasonable sum. That is just what killed off Cox's chance for election, if he ever had any. We certainly must have been delivered by the wise hand of the Good Lord. Incumbent upon us to defend bandits, that is what our acceptance of the League would have brought, by the admission of the Times, after the election. We really wish the Times had omitted BAN-DITS.

From this date to November 1923 and 24, and as long thereafter as desirable, we invite all men and women to make special observation of one or two things, chief among which is the charge made everywhere that there appeared a semblance of a chance to arouse prejudice, that in case the Republicans won out in the election just past, we would have mixed white and colored schools and social equality of the races. Kentucky has a Republican Administration and after March the 4th next, administration of public affairs in every department under which we live will be by the hand of Republicans.
Now please watch closely, discover if you may, any trend toward mixed schools in Ohio County and Kentucky.
Then if conditions with reference to the charge, made for the sole purpose of engendering race hatred and holding voters by blind partisanship is not fully exploded, we will acknowledge that there was ground on which to base the charge. If observant experience proves different acknowledgement of error ought to be made by those who were so glib and ready with the false charge. People with sense, men and women who can view dispassionately, conditions as really existing, owe it to themselves and to the public to chronicle their observations during the coming three or four years, along the lines indicated, and if the calumnious campaign charges exploded to the unbiased satisfaction of the fair observer then all justice loving voters of every party, should unite in burying any individual who would dare stir up prejudice by silly and idiotic charges solely for political gain. In utter and absolute oblivion by their ballots. It is a well-known fact that the colored people of this section do not desire mixed schools. If the question should be put up to them for decision we doubt not that not one in 50 would favor it. They do not wish to become associates of the white people, but no one with any sense of justice will deny the fact that the colored people are entitled to a square deal, and equal justice. We can't imagine a person who would withhold from any one, be he white or black, an opportunity to do the best he can. There are lots of people who do not associate with all of the white people whom they know, not because they are white, however, and you might as well say that because you refuse their association, they are not entitled to any sort of chance. Superiority, whether real or imaginary does not entitle one to withhold a just decision and equal justice to all people at all times and everywhere. Personal association of each individual is a matter for individual determination, that is, provided it does not adversely affect the best interest of the community in which the individual resides.

Again, watch the results, make personal observation.

THE NATIONAL GUARD

Considerable attention is being given to a reorganization and strengthening of the United States National Guard. Pay is allowed to all men serving in the guard for all services, including all drills, encampments, or other services. The policy of the Adjutant General in this state is not to draft men for service in strikes or riots, but to call only for volunteers from the various organized companies for this service.

The whole National Guard Organization is based upon a better plan than before.

For many years there has been a splendid company of National Guard in Ohio County, and one is being organized now. Those desiring to enlist should see Dr. A. B. Riley, A. D.
Kirk, or Robert Mason. Enlistments also will be received at the Restaurant of J. R. Taylor, Hartford, Ky.

STRAY STREAKS

(By Fluke McFluke.)

Tennessee, it seems, is correctly dubbed the "Volunteer State."

We see our venerable friend, Howard Ellis, driving a delivery wagon and doing various sorts of real work since the election. Some good surely doth result from every evil.

It's getting to be just about that season of the year when we are going to expect some of our farmer friends to fetch us about 3/4 of a yard off of the rear end of a backbone of a nice bob-tailed hog.

We met friend Tother day and asked him how things were going.
He replied in a dejected, downcast and heart-broke air. Oh! had enough bad enough, everything's gone wrong, there's nothing brewing. It was two days before we figured out just what the trouble was with said friend.

We notice that Chairman Grayot says that many negro women voted in knee dresses in the election of Nov.
2, and he therefore charges that fraud was committed. Gosh! Man, we saw lots of white women do the same thing here. This is just one more sin covered by short skirts. What was Mister Grayot doing on election day?

Scud and Birkhead will likely buy a farm soon, as they put out several caskets last week, tho we feel like they ought to set apart 1-16 of one per cent of the profit made on one job and buy a black silk hat for Scud. He might not look good but there's no denying the fact that a high silk sky-piece and a long-tailed coat adorned with in-minous brass buttons would improve its appearance and lend dignity to his doings.

We made ourself believe that we had been working tolerably faithful for quite a spell, and therefore, entitled to make a get-away for two or three days. We did our level best for the "Old Sheet" up to Wednesday and it was not go at all or leave on Wednesday, so we broke away on that day. If you don't like the paper this week just go to Duke and Peggy, and if you fall on getting satisfaction from them you have my permission to go to the Devil.

CLEAR RUN.

Molasses making is about over here, and corn gathering is now on hand, and the farmers are very busy.

Mrs. Ula Henning has been very sick of malarial fever for two weeks, but is better at this time.

Mrs. Hardin Hoover, whose name was mentioned on the sick list two weeks ago, is able now, to be up.

Master Henry Trogdon, son of C.
W. Trogdon, has been quite sick, but is better now.

Mr. Henry Purdue and wife have moved into the house with Mr. Earl Thomasson.

Mrs. Gertrude Funk is teaching a good school at Taylor's School house.

There has been much sickness in her school, supposed to be due to the bad drinking water. The truant officer called at the school one day and saw the water and told the little boy who was with him that it was not fit to drink, and we have ever since been listening to hear him raise a voice in our behalf but suppose he has forgotten the bugs and worms which we had to drink water off of. We hope the Board of Health will get busy about it before another school term, for we are tired of bug soup seasoned with worms. We are going to kick when we get big enough, but "Children must be seen and not heard."

Jesse Hoover, of Centertown, was the week-end guest of relatives here.

HARTFORD TRIUMPHS

Local Basket Ball Team Wins Over Fordsville—Two games On To-night.

The Hartford High School Basket Ball Team went to Fordsville Friday afternoon and played the first match game of the season with the High School Team of that place.
Hartford won by a score of 12 to 5.
A good bunch of enthusiastic rooters was at the train to see the boys off on the "Local" and put the pep and determination into them to come home victorious. The game was a splendid exhibition of good, clean sportsmanship, both teams putting into it their very best and upholding the high standards of their respective schools. Ellis and Crowe took care of the goal pitching for Hartford, while Griffith and LaGrand were playing the same for Fordsville.
Playing on an outdoor court did not seem to bother the Hartford boys a bit and the Fordsville put up a good fight, the game belonged to the former from the first.

These two teams will clash on the Locals' Court tonight, when a strong come-back of Fordsville High is promised. The girls' teams representing these schools, will also stage a game on the Hartford court tonight.
A good double bill ought to be in store for the fans.

GOOD REVIVAL IS CLOSED TOO EARLY

The Evangelistic services which had been in progress for 15 days at the Hartford Baptist Church, came to a close Sunday night. The Singer, Bro. E. A. Petroff, had serious sickness in his home and had to leave suddenly. The Evangelist, Rev. T. T. Martin, allowed himself to become confused in his dates and let some of them overlap, so felt that he would have to close the meeting here to meet other engagements. The meeting closed just when it should have gone on. The interest had been aroused, there had been a few professions of faith and 9 additions to the Church when the services closed.

SUCCESSFUL SINGING CONVENTION CONDUCTED AT LIBERTY

The Ohio County Singing Convention met at Liberty Church, Sunday October 31, and was called to order by Horace Taylor. Opening song, Revive us Again; prayer by T. R. Bennett. Officers elected were: Ozon Shultz, Chairman and L. B. Longley Secretary.

7 classes reported ready to sing, as follows: Williams Mines, Bert Lee leader; Independence, Eugenio Hibbs, leader; Central Grove, Willie I. Iglesias, leader; Pond Run, Owen Sandifer, leader; Marvins Chapel, Ernest Duke, leader; Mt. Hermon, Lydia Westerfield, leader.

Each class sang beautiful selection both in the forenoon and afternoon, after which they adjourned to meet with Independence next 5th Sunday.

Great interest is being manifested in these meetings and leaders are doing a great work in awakening religious feeling among the people and will be a great benefit to the churches which they represent. Liberty certainly entertained the Convention in high order. The music from all the classes was of the best selections and better rendered than any previous meeting.

FARM DEPARTMENT.

Success in cooperative marketing depends upon obtaining a sufficient volume of business, observing cooperative principles, employing capable management, following up-to-date business methods.

Cooperative marketing has resulted successfully for the cattle and hog growers of Craighead County, Ark. Cattle formerly sold at $3 to $6 a hundredweight under St. Louis markets, and hogs at $2 to $7 per hundredweight below the market. A carload of 94 hogs was originally collected and shipped through the activity of the county agent of the United States Department of Agriculture, and brought from $5 to $11 above the local price. The local buyers are now paying approximately the St. Louis prices.

More mutton would be consumed, the U. S. Department of Agriculture believes, if farmers realized generally that cured and smoked mutton is as delicious as pork. At present, only 3.9 per cent of the meat used in the United States is lamb or mutton. This is partly due to the fact that there is a popular impression among farmers that after a sheep is slaughtered, the only domestic use for the flesh is eating it while it is fresh. As a consequence, the farmer's family grows very tired of mutton before the carcass is consumed.

For the purpose of finding some way of obviating this difficulty, experimental work in the curing and smoking of mutton has been done recently by the Bureau of Animal Industry of the United States Department of Agriculture. Those who have been doing this work give the following directions for home curing mutton:

The first essential in curing is to be sure that the mutton is thoroughly cooled. The meat should never be frozen, either prior to or during the period of curing. The time to begin curing is when the meat is cooled and still fresh; the proper time is from 24 to 36 hours after killing. Because of the high shrinkage incident to curing, only large pieces, such as the legs and shoulders are suitable for treatment.

Mutton may be cured by using any good brine formula, but dry-cured meat is better for future use than brine-cured and requires less work. However, danger from rats and other vermin is less in the case of brine-cured meat. Both methods of curing are very successful if care is taken to see that each operation is executed properly.

Following is the method of dry-curing mutton advocated by the United States Department of Agriculture: For each 100 pounds of meat use 7 pounds salt, 3 pounds sugar or syrup, 2 ounces saltpepper, 2 ounces red pepper, and 3 ounces black pepper.

Mix all ingredients thoroughly, then rub the mixture well over the meat and pack it away in a box or on a table. Allow one and one-half days' cure for each pound of meat the pieces average. After the meat is cured hang it in the smokehouse.

Poultry Flock Should Have Health and Vigor.

Only by continuous selection for health and vigor is it possible to build up a flock that will produce fertile eggs, strong chicks capable of making quick growth, and pullets with sufficient stamina to withstand the strain of heavy egg production. The appearance of a bird is not always a sure indication of its vigor, but appearance and action taken together are a fairly reliable guide for picking out vigorous birds, say poultry specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The comb, face, and wattles should have a good, bright color; the eyes should be bright and fairly prominent and the head should be comparatively broad and short, having a fairly short, well-curved beak and showing no tendency to be long, "snaky" or "crow-headed."

The bird should be alert and have a strong, vigorous carriage; the legs should be set well apart and strongly support the body, giving no indication of weakness or a knock-kneed condition. The bone, as seen in the shank, should be strong and not too fine for the breed, while the toes should be straight, and not too long.

The condition of flesh should be good, as a very thin bird is usually in poor health. Sick fowls or fowls that have apparently recovered from sickness, should never be used for breeding if it can be avoided.

Usually hens make better breeders than pullets. Cockerels, if well grown and matured, often give better fertility than older birds. However, cock birds that have proved good breeders should be used.

Just then the speaker felt a yank at his coat tail by the local colored preacher, who whispered ardently: "Press dem questions, doctor; press dem questions. Dat's my wife!"

INTERSTATE TOWNS.

There is an old story that many of the names of towns, sleeping cars, etc., were devised by a maniac who had a passion for writing letters on the walls of his cell in meaningless combinations. Travelers who attempt to pronounce some of the difficult names they see on cars are very much inclined to believe this story.

The appropriate names for new towns are often as hard to select as car names and some of those selected are apparently as meaningless and are as difficult to pronounce. For many of them, however, there is a reason. Many towns that lie partly or close to the State line, have fine sounding and distinctive names that are made up of parts of the names of the two States. The following are names of this kind that appear on maps issued by the United States Geological Survey of the Department of the Interior:

Arizmo, Arizona-New Mexico. Cnlada, California-Nevada. Calixico, California-Mexico. (In the Mexican half of the town the order is reversed and it is called Mexicali.) Calneva, California-Nevada. Calvada, California-Nevada. Calzona, California, Arizona. Colmex, Colorado-New Mexico. Coluta, Colorado-Utah. Delmar, Delaware-Maryland. Kanorado, Kansas-Colorado. Kenova, Kentucky-Ohio-West Virginia.

Montak, Montana-North Dakota. Penmnr, Pennsylvania-Maryland. Sylmar, Pennsylvania-Maryland. Texarkana, Texas-Arkansas. Texico, Texas-New Mexico. Texin, Texas-Louisiana. Uvada, Utah-Nevada. Virglinia, Virginia-North Carolina. Wyocolo, Wyoming-Colorado.

In Texarkana, which is one of the largest towns on the list, the post office building is on the boundary line, one half in each State. Some other names of this class not yet shown on Geological Survey maps are Alaga, Arkla, Dnkoming, Texhoma, Urado, Wissota and Wyuta.

AREAS BELOW SEA LEVEL

All the continents possibly, except South America, include areas of dry land that lie below sea level according to the United States Geological Survey Department of the Interior, the lowest point in North America is one in Death Valley, Calif., that lies 276 feet below sea level, but this depression is slight compared to the basin of the Dead Sea, in Palestine, Asia, where the lowest point on dry land is 1,200 feet below sea level.

The lowest point in Africa is one in the Desert of Sahara that lies about 150 feet below sea level. The Sahnia as a whole stands above sea level although until recently the greater part of it was supposed to lie below sea level. The lowest point in Europe is one in the Caspian Sea that lies 66 feet below sea level. The lowest point in Australia is one at Lake Torrens that lies about 25 feet below sea level.

linington county jail, was beaten to death with an iron bar in a cell in the jail today by Harry Asay, a prisoner who was said to be suffering from delirium tremens. Charles Vernon, a "trusty," was also attacked and is said to be dying in the Mount Holly Hospital.

Asay, according to Sheriff Haines, was arrested last night for drunkenness. Today the jail physician prescribed medicine which was frequently given the prisoner. Shortly before noon when Klug entered the man's cell to give him another dose Asay attacked him with the bar and beat him to death. Asay ran from the cell and the first prisoner he encountered was Vernon. Whether Vernon tried to prevent his escape is not known, but in the attack Asay crushed his skull with the iron bar.

Asay was subdued before he could attack others in the prison and was again locked up. King lived but a short time after the attack. He was 55 years old.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA EMBARRASSING.

In Georgia they tell a story of a politician who was seeking to win the votes of his district to the end that he might be sent to the House of Representatives. In one speech he thought it might be well to refer to his humble origin and early struggles.

"Gentlemen," he said oratorically, "I got my start in life by working in a general store for $3 a week, yet I managed to save money."

As he paused impressively a shrill voice from the group of auditors demanded: "Was that before they invented cash registers?"

He sought to conciliate Wall Street by advocating the repeal of the excess profits tax, while he appealed to the West against the reactionaries. His attempt to put the Democratic party in the attitude of helping the solemn guardian of peace was ridiculous and his assaults upon such well-known advocates of peace as ex-President Taft and Herbert Hoover were disgraceful.

The American people want the government to play its part in the abolition of war, but they are indifferent as to whether we are part of a league or part of an association of nations. There is nothing in a name, but everything in a sentiment. The real issue presented by the Democratic party was not whether we should cooperate with other nations interested in peace, but whether we should assume a moral obligation which had no weight except as it suspended the right of Congress to act independently when the time arrived for action. The nation will do its part in aiding to prevent war, but it will not surrender into the keeping of any foreign group the right to determine when we shall declare war.

"Now that our participation will rest upon the will of Congress and not upon the arbitrary opinion of a single man, we may expect that disarmament will be made one of the conditions upon which we attempt to advise.

"Peace by terrorism has been proven impossible; peace based upon friendship and co-operation will be tried, provided the nations of Europe are willing to lay aside their land-grabbing schemes and join together on the basis of good-will. The country will expect Mr. Harding to carry out his pledge to advance the cause of world peace and there is no reason to doubt that he will do so. In the meantime the progressive forces of the nation will organize to compel Congress and the President, to provide the legislative means by which the masses can protect themselves from the greed of the exploiters."

FRANCE IS READY TO AID HARDING

Willing To Join Organization By Changing Covenant.

Paris, Nov. 6.—The view was expressed in official circles today that the French Government would be ready to co-operate with the authorities at Washington in formulating something different from the covenant of the League of Nations as drawn at Versailles in order to take its place.

This statement was made in official quarters in referring to the declaration of President-elect Harding as cabled from Marlon to the French press, to the effect that the Versailles covenant was now "deceased." This is interpreted by officials as applying to the covenant as drawn at Versailles and as indicating that something different from the Versailles agreement must take its place.

To that end, it was stated by officials the French Government would be ready to give its collaboration.

It has been the generally accepted view here that the French Government would accept reservations by the United States regarding Article X and the other provisions of the covenant which have been the subject of controversy in the United States.

In this connection it was pointed out in official circles today that the original French idea of a League of Nations did not contain anything like Article X.

Whether the amended organization would be called a league, or a society, or an association is immaterial to France, according to the Government viewpoint. The essential thing, it is held, is to arrive as near as possible to the prevention of war.

The French Government considers that it would be regrettable to sacrifice the organization already set up and that the preferable procedure is to amend the existing league under the name of an association if that meets the American view.

Washington, Nov. 6.—State Department and White House officials refused today to discuss reports from Paris published in this country that Myron T. Herrick, formerly American Ambassador to France, had been chosen as an intermediary in negotiations with President-elect Harding regarding Mr. Harding's proposal for an association of nations.

NEW ATTEMPTS MADE TO SOLVE THE IRISH ISSUE

London, Nov. 5.—Two interesting, although unofficial, attempts are being made to solve the Irish question, it developed today. The first of these is an effort by influential political quarters to induce the government to communicate with the Sinn Fein members of Parliament in order to try to reach a practical agreement and prevent the ruin of Ireland.

The second is that three coalition members of Parliament will formally propose a plan for withdrawing the military in Ireland to strategic centers and allowing the local authorities to take the responsibility for the preservation of law and order with the eventual view of negotiating a political settlement of the problem.

HUN REPARATIONS BASIS AGREED ON

Paris, Nov. 6.—France and Great Britain have finally agreed on the procedure in four stages on the question of German reparations. This decision was reached after two conferences this afternoon between Premier Lévy and the Earl of Derby, the British Ambassador at Paris.

The procedure will embrace:

First, a Brussels conference of experts; second, a meeting at Geneva between the representatives of the allied and German Governments; third, consideration by the reparations commission of the findings of the first two conferences; fourth, a meeting of the Premiers to consider the decision of the reparations commission.

HARDING HELPED BUILD ERIE RAILROAD IN 1882

New York, Nov. 6.—President-elect Harding, who played a cornet and set type in his youth in Marion, also drove a team on the grading of what is now the Western Division of the Erie in 1882. His employer was George E. Payne, a real estate operator of Long Island City.

"I was twenty-one then," Mr. Payne said today, "and was working as a time keeper for Page and Littlejohn, railroad contractors, who were building a part of the extension between Marion and Kenton, Ohio.

"We depended on the farmers of the community for teams, and one day, as I remember it, a young fellow who said he was W. G. Harding asked for work, saying he had a team. I sent him down to the foreman, a Mr. Hart, who put him to work immediately."

Mr. Payne said he read several months ago that Mr. Harding had worked on railroad construction in his youth.

"Having been in that section," he continued, "I looked up my old records. I wrote to him and got the following letter from his secretary, Mr. Christian:

"This is to confirm your injury and to advise you that W. G. Harding who was employed by you to work on the grading of the railroad in 1882 is now the Republican candidate for President."

TEUTON SCIENTISTS FAVOR OLD ACCORD

Berlin, Nov. 6.—German university professors and members of the Reichstag have drawn up a reply to the appeal for re-establishment of the "friendly intercourse" which existed before the World War, which the professors and doctors of Oxford University addressed to professors of arts and sciences and members of universities and learned societies in Germany and Austria.

"Science knows only one sin—the search after the truth—and it requires for the performance of this task the common labor of all, regardless of national boundaries," says the German reply.

The World War interrupted this joint labor and dissolved many personal ties. We are ready to resume these connections and by common labor to relegate to oblivion every tag offensive spoken or written in both camps."

In twenty-one years no fewer than 230 slight shocks of an earthquake have been recorded in the British Isles, an average of almost exactly one a month.

BRYAN AGAINST PHILOSOPHY

Many admirers of W. J. Bryan were greatly surprised to hear of his attitude on the subject of philosophy. In an address before a religious convention at Washington he said: "We have allowed the doctrine of neutrality in religion to be carried too far. Our universities and colleges are teaching agnosticism and skepticism under the guise of philosophy, and the minds of young men and young women are being corrupted." He advocated the prohibition of the teaching of philosophy that does not coincide with the doctrines of Christianity.

MINES ARE TAKEN OVER IN MEXICO

Mexico City, Nov. 5.—American, British and French mining companies in the State of Coahuila plan a protest to the Mexican Government against the latter's decision to operate many mines in the State, owing to the inability of employers and working men to reach an agreement ending the present strike.

It is denied in official circles that the Government has intended to confiscate the mines, but it is asserted drastic measures are necessary to supply railroads and factories with fuel. The Constitution, it is pointed out, authorized the Government to act in such an emergency.

Representatives of the Governor of Coahuila yesterday took over five mining properties, announcing that operations would start probably today.

The men have been idle for ten days following a strike in support of demands for wage increases ranging from 100 to 250 per cent. All profits, it is said, will be turned over to the owners of the mines.

Yes, I am—certainly SOME personage!

Proud am I of the fact—because my one aim is to make profits day by day.

What care I, then, for the shelf-warmers, the left-overs, the oddsizes, the back-number styles and the nameless other merchandise that the public doesn't want. I travel not in their company—am I not the Lord High Potentate of all retail success?

Surely some personage, as you have said.

But the merchant who doesn't know me only has to watch his sales records and they will tell—who I am. I am the result of sensible merchandising, up-to-date advertising, proper, kindly store service, of system in cost and management.

I AM KNOWN IN BUSINESS AS— THE QUICK TURNOVER.

BAD BREAD IS BLAMED FOR ILLNESS IN VIENNA

Vienna, Nov. 6.—The poor quality of the bread which the people have at present to eat is stated to be the cause of extraordinary increase of intestinal affections in the last weeks, and over which the medical faculty here is very much concerned.

A peculiar feature of the epidemic is that it is accompanied by skin eruptions similar to those caused by pellagra.

Pellagra is generally believed to be caused by eating a poor grade of corn, and the bread as baked at present in Vienna contains 40 per cent corn flour and 20 per cent potato flour.

MORROW PARDONS JAILED JAILED ELECTED AS JUDGE

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 6.—Fess Whitaker, jailed jailer of Letcher County, who was elected last Tuesday to succeed to the office of the County Judge that sent him to jail, will be free to qualify for the office.

Gov. Edwin P. Morrow today pardoned him, accepting Whitaker's vindication at the polls as sufficient reason for clemency.

Whitaker had quarreled with former County Judge Sam Collins, who sent him to jail for fighting. He was incarcerated in his own jail, but unlocked the door during the night and went out. He was indicted and convicted of escaping, for which he received another jail sentence.

TEN WOMEN ELECTED TO MICHIGAN OFFICES

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 6.—One seat in the State Senate, two Sheriffs and seven lesser county offices were given to women in Tuesday's election in Michigan, according to almost complete returns today. All the successful candidates were Republicans.

Women Treasurers were elected in Muskegon, Delta and Tuscola Counties; Missaukee County elected a Woman County Clerk, and women candidates for Registrar of Deeds were successful in Kalamazoo and Oscoda Counties. In Hillsdale County a woman Drain Commissioner was chosen.

The Grand Rapids district selected Mrs. E. A. Hamilton as State Senator. The women Sheriffs were chosen in Huron and Kalamazoo Counties.

FRANCE'S BIRTH RATE FAILS TO SHOW GAIN

Paris, Oct. 20.—France's efforts to raise the birthrate and lower the death rate by means of the new Ministry of Hygiene are too recent to be judged by comprehensive statistics. The importance of the problem, however, is given optimistic prominence anew by publication of the Labor Ministry's statistics for 1919.

There were three deaths to two births last year. In only one department, Finistere, did births exceed deaths. In a number deaths were double and even nearly treble the number of births.

LEVIATHAN RAT INFESTED

Many thousands of rats, it is said, are swarming in the U. S. S. Leviathan, formerly the German liner Vaterland, now at Staten Island, N. Y. Fumigation by poison-gas was found unsuitable as it would take several weeks for the gas to clear away enough to allow anyone to return to the ship. It was decided to let the rats starve, as a result of which policy they have devoured every cat on board ship and have turned their attention to the luxurious leather cushions and the beautiful paneling and other woodwork. It is supposed that the weaker rats will soon begin to die and will be eaten by the survivors. The rats are ferocious and desperate enough to attack a dog or a man but it is expected that starvation will shortly solve the problem.

326 OF WEST VIRGINIA'S MINERS KILLED IN YEAR

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 6.—Three hundred and twenty men were killed in the mining industry in West Virginia during the year ending June 30 last, according to the annual report of the State Department of Mines, made public here today. The report shows that fatal accidents during the year decreased by fifty-five from the total during a corresponding period of the year previous.

DIAMOND FOUND IN CANDY

While eating a piece of molasses candy the other day, Oda Utter, of Warwick, N. Y., broke a tooth on some hard, lustrous object. She consulted a jeweler, who informed her that the article in question was a diamond worth about $400. It was a fortunate experience for Oda but it would hardly warrant speculators in buying all the candy in the United States which last year sold for a billion dollars.

AUTO THIEVES CAUGHT

A unique scheme of thievery has been unmasked and five men and one woman, declared to be members of an international organization, have been arrested in Detroit. Within the last year $1,000,000 worth of cars were stolen in Detroit. They would be hidden away for several days, identification numbers changed and everything possible altered. They were then driven away by men of the underworld, equipped with different state license tags, and they were shipped to Norway and Sweden where they were sold.

A TALKING CLOCK.

A philadelphian man has a unique clock which instead of ringing a discordant alarm bell speaks right out in the morning and announces that it is "Time to get up." The clock also calls out: "Breakfast is ready," "Time to go to work," "Time to go to market" etc., at predetermined hours.

CENSUS REPORT ON OHIO COUNTY DRAINAGE AREA

The Director of the Census announces, subject to correction, the following preliminary figures for organized drainage enterprises, in Ohio county, Kentucky:

Total area in organized drainage enterprises December 31, 1919, acres, 12,961; improved farm land, acres, 9,919; timbered and cut over land, acres, 2,193; other unimproved land, acres, 849. Total area of county, acres, 373,760.

Area of county in drainage enterprises, 3.5 per cent.

Swampy or wet or subject to overflow, in organized drainage enterprises, 1,960.

Cost of organized drainage enterprises, total $79,695.

McLean county has spent $194,076 for drainage and 14.4 per cent of total area is in drainage districts.

CATTLE LOANED TO TEUTONS

For the purpose of aiding Germany and Austria to get back on their feet in the matter of dairying and cattle raising, sympathetic organizations in this country have entered negotiations with Texas farmers to purchase 150,000 head of cattle for $10,000,000 within the next six months. The cattle will be "loaned" to those two countries in order to head off the possibility of the allies' appropriating this stock in partial payment of the Teuton indemnities. After a certain number of years an equal number of cattle will be returned to the American owners.

LUXURY EXPENSES

From a perusal of tax returns compiled by the treasury department it appears that the people of our country spent nearly $23,000,000,000 for luxuries during 1919. Of this amount $75,000,000 was spent by "milady" for cosmetics. The men won, however, by burning up $1,300,000,000 in cigars and cigarettes. For jewelry $500,000,000 was put into the jewelers' pockets, and a cool billion was contributed to feeding the candy manufacturers. Autos gobble up two billions. Chewing-gum stuck its users for 50 millions.

The man whose credit is best is not the man who has the most money, but the man who always pays when he agrees to.

DENIES PROMISE TO POPE.

The report in the newspapers throughout the country that the Knights of Columbus had promised to have an American ship in readiness to convey the pope in safety to the United States in case of grave troubles in Italy has been stoutly denied by J. A. Flaherty, supreme knight of that organization. "Of course," said Mr. Flaherty, "we would give him his holiness no such assurance on the part of the United States." What we did promise was to aid the head of our church to our utmost ability whenever he might have need of us. The statement that the organization undertook to raise $1,000,000 for the Vaticano is also incorrect, he says—the amount given the pope for "Peter's pence" coming from the knights' own pockets for use in charity work.

SACRED BULL IMPORTED

A ranch in Texas has come into possession of a "sacred humped bull," which is valued at $75,000. This is the only living sacred bull ever imported from India. He carried the mystic brand given him by a high priest in India, who was cast out when he sold it. In many parts of the world, and particularly in the Orient, animals have been worshipped from time we cannot reckon. In India the sacred humped cattle are allowed to

HINTS LAW SUIT AGAINST COHEN

State Inspector Issues Statement In Reply To Former Commissioner

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 8.—Reiterating every charge made in his report on the State Fair during the time that Mat S. Cohen was commissioner of agriculture, State Inspector and Examiner Henry E. James today issued a statement in reply to the answer to the report made by Cohen.

The Inspector intimates, in the course of his statement, that legal action against Cohen is contemplated by the commonwealth. Referring to the former commissioner's statement that the Inspector "was acting as a judge or jury on the question of law and facts involved," Mr. James says:

"Unless I misjudge coming events there will be very much a jury trial in due course."

The statement follows:

"In answer to my charges of recklessness, waste, extravagance, duplication and padding of expense accounts of the State Fair Board, Mr. Cohen is reported by the press as saying:

"First—That he accuses the examiner of wilful exaggeration when he says that 8,261 single ticket admissions of various kinds and meal tickets for the year 1918 and 9,433 for the year 1919 were delivered to him. Replying to this denial the examiner charges that Mr. Cohen is either telling a wilful falsehood or is so densely ignorant and reckless that he fails to realize the seriousness of his statement. To substantiate this charge or any other charge that I made in my report of August 5, 1920, I refer Mr. Cohen to the record now on file in the office of the Kentucky State Fair at Louisville, which record was made by and is in the handwriting of the employees of Mr. Cohen's administration.

Refers To Records.

"Second—Mr. Cohen charges that he received in donations more than $28,000 for the years 1918 and 1919. I again refer to the records and to the expert accountants' report for 1919 who were employed by the fair board at its state chamber session held at Lexington. I also refer to the original entries made in the State Fair ledger by Cohen's assistants.

"Third—Mr. Cohen attempts to deliberately dodge the issue by haggling at the 1917 Horse Show. The examiner did not mention the 1917 fair as dealing exclusively with the transference of 1918 and 1919 and suggests that anyone who doubts his statement can examine the Cohen-made record.

"Fourth—Mr. Cohen suggests that Mr. H. H. Hunt will not be satisfied with the affidavit of fair ground persons that it may be so but it was clearly demonstrated at the 1920 fair that Cohen's number of 104, costing $17.15.00, were not necessary and that only thirty-three were employed by Mr. H. H. Hunt at a cost of $1,573.00.

"Fifth—Mr. Cohen suggests that he had nothing to do with fleecing November A. D., 1920, at 1 P. M., at Uncle John Shell at the 1919 fair. The examiner quotes from the affidavit of J. A. Asher, as follows: "That he, the said Asher, under the order and direction of Mat S. Cohen, paid for said concession 20 per cent of the above amount which 20 per cent is the sum of $250.00 to Q. T. Gatewood.

I quote from the statement of Carl R. Funk, superintendent of concessions, as follows: "I was advised by Mr. Cohen that no charge was to be made for the space occupied by the Shell tent." In the fact of this evidence is it any wonder that I have connected him with the matter?"

"Seventh—Mr. Cohen certainly has had a change of mind about making reparation for the amount his accounts were padded and duplicated for, I say very frankly and, I believe, the other gentlemen present at the conference will agree with me that Cohen never indicated that he would pay back.

"The accused need not worry about the Inspector acting as judge or jury on the question of law and facts involved, but unless I misjudge coming events there will be very much of a jury trial in due course.

"Eighth—Mr. Cohen says that a diligent Inspector would have searched the records of the Agricultural Bureau and there found a list of the "contributors." That is exactly what I did, but search was all. The list was not there and an employe of Mr. Cohen's during his term as commissioner made a most thorough search and said to me that such a list was not there and had never been there to her knowledge. Mr. Shropshire, the assistant secretary of the fair, also told me that such a list had never been filed in the fair office. I again charge that Cohen solicited and received contributions without filing a list showing the names of the contributors and the various amounts contributed by each in either the office of the commissioner or the State Fair.

"Eleventh—Regarding 'Louisville ministers at smokers,' Cohen says some of the Louisville ministers will testify to their presence at these meetings (mentioning smokers or banquets), and as to whether or not the liquor flowed. I now call upon Mr. Cohen to give the names of the Louisville ministers who attended a banquet given at the Seelbach Hotel on September 11, 1916, where forty covers were laid and forty cocktails and one pony cognac were served. Also on April 30, 1917, when a banquet was served at the Seelbach Hotel, where $115.50 worth of food was consumed as well as $17 worth of liquors from the bar. Also banquet at same hotel September 11, 1917, where thirty special covers were laid and thirty L. B. highballs consumed.

"Twelfth—Mr. Cohen exonerates himself from "graft" but adds that the Inspector might look to the capitol building and among state employees elsewhere. To this statement the Examiner has this to say: That if Mr. Cohen has reasonable grounds for believing that there is graft in or out of the capitol, he is no part of a good citizen unless he lets the facts be known to the Franklin County grand jury.

H. E. JAMES,
State Inspector and Examiner.

DENTAL NOTICE.

Now is the time to have your dental work attended to. Winter is coming with rain and snow which makes old teeth ache and abscesses. Abscessed Teeth or "Gum Boils" are dangerous. You are continually swallowing this deadly poisoned pus. Each mouthful of food carries this infection into the stomach. It lowers vitality which invites cancer of the mouth, throat and stomach. Diphtheria, Tuberculosis, Pneumonia, Influenza, Typhoid, Bright's Disease, rheumatism, Anæmia and even death frequently results from continually swallowing pus.

A mouth containing decayed teeth is a poisonous laboratory, which sends a host of bacteria into the elementary tract. They multiply rapidly thus gaining access to the lymphatic system and are carried to the distant organs. Soft spongy and bleeding gums give warning of approaching abscesses.

"Sixth—Mr. Cohen denies that he had anything to do with fleecing November A. D., 1920, at 1 P. CAN'T PRAISE IT TOO MUCH, HE SAYS

Is Glad He Took It For It Completely Restored His Health

"In three weeks I picked up ten pounds in weight and I can say that Taalac will do all they say it will," said Barney Johnson Lee, 2220 Lyons Avenue, Louisville, Ky.

"Back in February I had a spell of the 'flu' that left me all run-down and my stomach out of order. After I went back to work I was so weak I could hardly hold out during the day. My appetite was so poor I had to force down enough to keep me alive and it always soured on my stomach and caused me no end of trouble. My nerves were unstrung. It was next to impossible for me to get a good night's sleep. I was just about played out.

"I had heard about Taalac and when I saw the statement of Rev. Charles Sanders, of Huntington, W. Va., I decided to try it. My appetite picked up right away, and in a few days the indigestion commenced to leave me. Although I have taken only two bottles of Taalac I have gained ten pounds, my nerves are strong and I sleep like a top every night. I am as well and strong as I ever was and feel like my old self again."

Taalac is sold in Hartford by Dr. L. B. Bean; in Beaver Dam by R. T. Taylor, Jr.; and in McHenry by S. J. Tichenor.—Advertisement.

Removal of bodies from occupied areas in Germany and Luxembourg has just been completed, and all of them were sent to America. Working forces will begin operations in Belgium next month and from cemeteries in that country 1,000 bodies will be removed. The work of exhaling bodies in the Br. at Bordeaux and St. Lazare areas has been completed and now the efforts of the Americans will be concentrated on the war zone.
